Now flick through the book and as a small group write down:-

2. How you would refer to an idea you have read about in this book (in an essay)

3. How you would quote something from this book (in an essay)

Once you have completed this task, then swap the book with another group or find another book on the table and begin the task again. Ask if unsure, and continue this process till you have a list of a few references and quotes.
